Camstudio full version

CamStudio is a reliable desktop screen recorder released as free, Open Source software. CamStudio Lite (full, standalone offline installer) is a free virus, modified version of CamStudio minus advertising adware. Both programs are similar, with the same features, but CamStudio Lite comes without malware. CamStudio is able to record full screen and audio activity on your computer, save and export MP4 (h.264/H264) or AVI video files. Also using its built-in SWF manufacturer can turn these files into lean, bandwidth-friendly streaming Flash videos (SWFs). Add screen captions to recordings in seconds, and with the unique video annotation feature, you can even customize videos by including a movie with a webcam about yourself in a picture across the desktop. And if all that wasn't enough, CamStudio also comes with its own Lossless Codec, which produces crystal clear results with much smaller file sizes compared to other codecs. CamStudio will run fine under Microsoft Windows 10, 8, 8.1, 7 on either 32-bit or 64-bit operating systems. About CamStudio 3.0a4 (64-bit): CamStudio 3.0 is a fork of actual CamStudio source code that removes the outdated SWF file format and delivers MKV support, clean installer, Qt UI and other changes. CamStudio 3.0 Alpha 4 changelog: Fixed not all mouse events are going through (for real now), when using keyboard shortcuts to start or pause recording. Known issues: Construction on Windows 7 broken due to tolerant-is incompatible with win7 SDK. Setup does not contain visual studio 2017 redistributable. Mp4 container format does not support camcodec. Latest version: 3.0 Alpha 4 / 2.7.4 r354 Lite / 2.7.2 r326 Portable (31 October 2018) License: Open Source System Requirements: Windows XP/Vista/7/8/10 Download 64-bit: CamStudio-3.0-alpha.4-4-00.exe (15.4 MB) Download 32-bit: camstudio_lite_274.exe (10.8 MB) Download Portable: CamStudio Portable (13.2 MB) See also: TechSmith Screen Capture Codec Screen Recorder CamStudio Lossless Video Codec Community Clips Main Page This website is Copyright © CodePack.co All other trademarks are the property of their respective owners. As of this writing there is no malware on SourceForge download for CamStudio. CamStudio is a great tool for creating quick demos and screencasts on your computer in AVI, and if you wish, you can convert them to Flash format. CamStudio features include the ability to highlight the cursor path during a recording session, automatic scrolling, and the ability to record with sound. The effects menu lets you annotate and add videos with comments, and add a timestamp or watermark. CamStudio also captures screenshots, if you set the frame rate, drag the mouse area to capture, and click on the coordinates. While CamStudio does not contain any spectacular compressors, file types or even editor, we found it easy to convert AVI files to MP4s, for example, using other free software. Overall, CamStudio is a great way to use open source software to produce both instructional videos and screenshots and share them with the world! CamStudio at First Sight CamStudio is a compact little program with some nice features tucked away to maximize its glamour. Installation is a breeze. However, when you run CamStudio, a private product upgrade is offered that has not been verified by SourceForge. You will need to decide whether you want to take risks on a private CamStudio upgrade or not. Still, once you run CamStudio, you will find some useful features to make your screen recording journey quite enjoyable. This other application reconfigures your browsers (Chrome, Mozilla, IE and maybe others that I don't have) painting them with their themes and plastering them with links. It's in awe!!!! Thank you very much for the program distributed under the free open license! Just calm yo guys, there is no FFS virus lol, all your antivirus scanners are probably just giving away false positive results. He's been using this for years and I've never run into any problems with viruses and who else. But I do not recommend using it because I had problems with the program itself as it is not able to use mp4 format. I downloaded CamStudio from the SourceForge website and installed it. I didn't find any malware or adware. The installation process did not offer any such options and after installation I did not find any on my PC. The problem seems to have been resolved. I ran the program and played flawlessly. They seem to be doing exactly what they claim to do. Thanks, Aaron 10-30-17 Not malware (there was an adware once, but that was discarded and honestly: READ BEFORE CLICKING [OK]! Always! I installed a lot of good software and many did not have easy to avoid searching or home screen to be set to something other than what you have. Even Adobe tries to install unwanted software whenever you update pdf or flash) I use the software from 10 years and I am completely satisfied with it. I rarely use screen capture, so I'm not a pro. The features I get are exactly the features that I need. I'm sure there are stronger and more sophisticated apps out, but I want to record my actions and not read through pages and page manuals before I can even start thinking about uploading. That's why I don't use Photoshop if I want fast graphics, but GIMP or even MSSPaint. Conclusion: I love it. It does what I want and I can start recording minutes after download. Is there stronger software out there? Maybe, but it is free and the interface is manageable. I wish they were in CNet and liked to spread more widely and then some of us may even donate. I donate $5 every time I install it on a machine. Developers won't get more cappuccino than that, but I try to pay more than that. It's more acknowledgement of their efforts than attributed to their new Lear Jet. And I'm sorry because I work in IT and know how much 'Blood, Sweat and Tears' go into software like this. (I didn't use 'support' so can't judge on it) I've used CamStudio in the past and found it to be good, reliable, and allows you to face free, screen recording software. I have Adobe Premiere Pro so you don't have to do video editing in my screen capture software, I just want something that captures my screen, captures my voice and highlights the cursor. CamStudio also has a car par, which is useful if you're not recording the full screen, but occasionally you need to go through and show something from the current shot. One of the features that I would like CamStudio to have is the ability to display keyboard presses as text on the screen in a customizable location. I find when watching sample software that use a lot of keyboard shortcuts like Photoshop or Premiere Pro etc. that can be difficult to follow because the person generally forgets to mention what they are pressing and when. But unfortunately CamStudio doesn't seem to do it. The solution, of course, is that when showing demonstration videos, be sure to tell you what keyboard shortcuts you press when you use them so that viewers can Along. Anyway, I have sorted my computer after many years and so need to download the latest version of CamStudio. I read all these complaints about people getting Malware and Trojans and things when installing CamStudio also here on SourceForge. Anyway from February 16th, 2016 I can announce that the file available here from the link in stable folders on the files tab camstudio site did not have malware of any kind. Various commentators for this software noted that just click reject and Malware is not installed, but for me there was no attempt to install any. One commenter noted that there was advertising in camstudio software when it came, but there is none on the version I downloaded CamStudio_Setup_2-7_r316.exe (11.4 MB). Sadly, you can't write URLs in these comments otherwise I might show examples of videos I made with software to troubleshoot quality recordings. MUY BUENO... FUNCIONA EXELENTE CS WIN 7 It's really fucking easy. If you try to download from CamStudio (camstudio.org), you will receive a 979KB file containing MalSign.Generic.94C (avgthreatlabs.com/www-en/virus-and-malware-information/info/trojan-horse-generic?name=Trojan%20horse%20Generic.94C&utm_source=TDPU&utm_medium=RS&PRTYPE=AVF). If, on the other hand, you download from the (sourceforge.net/projects/camstudio) and use the 'Direct Download' link under the green 'Download' box, you will get a full 11.171MB .exe which installs seamlessly or 'crapware'. I don't know why people are burning this project. Every hidden adware review here is false, just installed and everything is fine. People:) Please Chillax, * this is chill + relax :) Installing the program has offers that you can easily reject, the program itself is free of malware, so there you go. The SourceForge version is fine if you avoid installing the extra cruft that comes with the new SourceForge installer. I haven't tried this screen recorder yet. I've been using MS Expressions for a while and wanted to try something different to make my class demos. I downloaded litecam HD www.litecam.net and tried the trial version. I really like it. It is easy to control and video processing is fast. For a price, it can't be beat. It can also be used as software for recording games. There is absolutely no virus or malware in this download. No more toolbars or other junk when installing litecam hd screen recorder. I also really like the PIP feature. Just what I needed-no, more than I needed, thank you very much! Its exactly what I needed and done without error. So many negative reviews. I downloaded CamStudio_2.7_r316_setup.exe and scanned with virustotal, which did not find any errors. Then I installed it, ran it, and it worked just as expected without spyware or anything. I suspect alle negative comments are fake and/or spam. Hi guys, let everyone write a negative review... It seems as if there were several different versions of CamStudio floating around. For example, the version on Cnet comes w/ malware. Looks like there's another version here at SourceForge. CamStudio - Desktop Screen Recorder is the version you want. Download it but don't update it because it seems to double back on the malware/adware version. Instead, use it as is, and support devs by here on SF! SF! was on a careful search to find the best free screen recorder that tested at least twenty programs that found none of them came close to the quality of results, ease of use, reliability, as I experienced with CamStudio. I have been using older versions of CamStudio for years always very satisfied with the program, but I was forced to search for alternative sources of screen recorder due to the problem of missing .dll file, specifically mfc100.dll. CamStudio could not start without a specific file. The other problems I experienced with CamStudio, even as recently as a month ago, were an incredible amount of malware, various unsolicited programs that would secretly install itself when downloading CamStudio to different sites. As a result I was forced to avoid CamStudio, so began my search for an alternative screen recorder. Having finally solved the problem with the missing registry file and finding CamStudio on SourceForge.net, knowing it as the best, most reliable source for the software, felt confident downloading CamStudio in the overwhelmingly gratifying results. It turned out to be even better than ever on 1 January 2009. Its video playback quality is excellent being able to record blue-ray and other high-resolution videos without problems 2. Easy to use, reliability is excellent 3. It offers one of the best video codecs to download available 4. It's completely free, no hidden tricks, calls for none of you, no toolbars to install, other self-serving useless programs. 5. Absolutely, completely malware-free the absolute best product of its kind available even among paid versions. He's doing what he's supposed to do, and he's doing it well. Easy to use with a good level of depth of customization. Good recorder. Bad player. Just allow the user choose their own player or pack something with a compatible license. It is easy to control and video processing is fast. For a price, it can't be beat. It can also be used as software for recording games. There is absolutely no virus or malware in this download. No more toolbars or other junk when installing litecam hd screen recorder. I also really like the PIP feature. Just what I needed-no, more than I needed, thank you very much! Its exactly what I needed and done without error. So many negative reviews. I downloaded CamStudio_2.7_r316_setup.exe and scanned with virustotal, which did not find any errors. Then I installed it, ran it, and it worked just as expected without spyware or anything. I suspect alle negative comments are fake and/or spam. Hi guys, let everyone write a negative review... It seems as if there were several different versions of CamStudio floating around. For example, the version on Cnet comes w/ malware. Looks like there's another version sourceforge. Anyway from February 16th, 2016 I can announce that the file available here from the link in stable folders on the files tab camstudio site did not have malware of any kind. Various commentors for this software noted that just click reject and Malware is not installed, but for me there was no attempt to install any. One commenter noted that there was advertising in camstudio software when it came, but there is none on the version I downloaded CamStudio_Setup_2.7_r316.exe (11.4 MB). Sadly, you can't write URLs in these comments otherwise I might show examples of videos I made with software to troubleshoot quality recordings. MUY BUENO... FUNCIONA EXELENTE CS WIN 7 It's really fucking easy. If you try to download from CanStudio (camstudio.org), you will receive a 979KB file containing MalSign.Generic.94C (avgthreatlabs.com/ww-en/virus-and-malware-information/info/trojan-horse-generic)? name=Trojan%20horse%20Generic.94C&utm_source=TDP&utm_medium=RS&utm_PRTYPE=AVF). If, on the other hand, you can download from Sourceforge (sourceforge.net/projects/camstudio) and use the 'Direct Download' link under the green 'Download' box, you will get a full 11.171MB..exe which installs seamlessly or 'crapware'. I don't know why people are burning this project. Every hidden adware review here is false, just installed and everything is fine. People.) Please Chillax, * this is chill + relax :) Installing the program has offers that you can easily reject, the program itself is free of malware, so there you go. If you have a malwarebytes message saying ***** NON-malware detected, Malwarebytes has blocked a potentially unwanted program. Seller: PUP. Optional InstallCore.SID.C ***** Non-malware is not malware, I know I also go with the first two letters and the last two letters:) some reviews say that the program does not work, you need a Visual C++ redistributed package, so if it did not work, try uninstalling and downloading a new copy, be sure to read what the offers are, and if you are not interested click Reject, and the installation will continue. Sourceforge is a great community and makes great programs available for free, similar packages are available commercially for about 49.99 d, honest! If I can make a suggestion, be kind in your comments and I'm guessing you may well benefit from taking the time to be kind to yourself too, I wish you all a great day ahead. * Do not download CamStudio.org - that version is full of viruses / malware / adware! The SourceForge version is fine if you avoid installing the extra cruft that comes with the new SourceForge installer. I haven't tried this screen recorder yet. I've been using MS expressions a while and wanted to try something else to make my class demos. I downloaded litemcam HD www.litemcam.net and tried the trial version. I really like it. It is easy to control and video processing is fast. For a price, it can't be beat. It can also be used as software for recording games. There is absolutely no virus or malware in this download. It seems as if there were several different versions of CamStudio floating around. For example, the version on Cnet comes w/ malware. Looks like there's another version here at SourceForge. CamStudio - Desktop Screen Recorder is the version you want. Download it but don't update it because it seems to double back on the malware/adware version. Instead, use it as is, and promote devs by giving it here to SF! I've been on a careful search to find the best free screen recorder that tested at least twenty programs that found none of them came close to quality results, ease of use, reliability, as I experienced with CamStudio. I have been using older versions of CamStudio for years always very satisfied with the program, but I was forced to search for alternative sources of screen recorder due to the problem of missing .dll file, specifically mfc100.dll. CamStudio could not start without a specific file. The other problems I experienced with CamStudio, even as recently as a month ago, were an incredible amount of malware, various unsolicited programs that would secretly install itself when downloading CamStudio to different sites. As a result, I was forced to avoid CamStudio, so began my search for an alternative screen recorder. Having finally solved the problem with the missing registry file and finding CamStudio on SourceForge.net, knowing it as the best, most reliable source for the software, felt confident downloading CamStudio in the overwhelmingly gratifying results. It turned out to be even better than ever on 1 January 2009. It's video playback quality is excellent being able to record blue-ray and other high-resolution videos without problems 2. Easy to use, reliability is excellent 3. It offers one of the best video codecs to download available 4. It's completely free, no hidden tricks, calls for none of you, no toolbars to install, other self-serving useless programs. 5. Absolutely, completely malware-free the absolute best product of its kind available among paid versions. He's doing what he's supposed to do, and he's doing it well. Well, used with a good level of depth of customization. Good recorder. Bad player. Just allow the user to choose their own player or pack something with a compatible license. The best on SF here, appreciate that! See 25 more reviews &gt; Related business categories
